

It's a whole new club

using your club's own
SMS text messaging system

Keep your customers involved with your club and each other. Now you can run your very own SMS text and picture messaging system, just like the "big boys".

With Pangolin's SMS system, your customers create their own entertainment: flirting, chatting, SMS voting, and requesting songs. Plus your club can directly interact with customers by running contests, promoting specials, and even sending messages back to your customers.

The Pangolin SMS system is very easy to use. Your DJs and VJs will love setting it up. It can run itself, automatically screening messages. Or if you want, have your own "SMS jockey" in the loop, to encourage interaction and act as a master of ceremonies. You can even add the SMS screen to your VJ-type software, to create a complete interactive visual environment.

Get a custom video look for your club. Easily combine different elements such as: bitmap artwork, SMS voting, SMS text & pictures, scrolling titles and even live video feeds. The result is a fresh, professional video projection that can run unattended all night long.

At the end of the night, you've got a database with every mobile number, nickname and message that came in. You can then send a message back to your customers, to help build more business.

All you need is a standard computer, and video monitors or projectors so patrons can see the chat, voting, and other messages. It even controls standard laser graphic projectors, to make unique scrolling laser text messages like the one at right.

Since you own the SMS equipment and software, you can customize it to your club's "look". It pays for itself by giving the texting generation a fun, almost addictive reason to patronize your club — and giving you access to send them messages about specials, theme nights, etc.
